ABOUT US

ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA
TV | RADIO | NEWS

Alaska Public Media harnesses the power of multiple media platforms to make a more informed and connected life possible for all Alaskans. We produce and present news and content that provides lifelong learning opportunities in public affairs, health and leisure, science and nature, economic and social development, civic engagement and world events.

Located in Southcentral Alaska, we are comprised of KSKA radio, KAKM-TV, Create TV, PBS KIDS, and alaskapublic.org. Alaska Public Media also operates the Statewide News and a shared television service with KTOO in Juneau and KYUK in Bethel. Alaska Public Media and its affiliates deliver content that reaches 97% of the population of Alaska.

WELCOME

Welcome to the March 2023 edition of the Alaska Public Media Program Guide! Here are this month's featured programs, news and announcements.

STATION NEWS

ANNOUNCING OUR EDUCATION PARTNERSHIPS FOR 2023

Diverse partnerships create new opportunities for innovative education aimed at Alaska's youth

Alaska Public Media entered 2023 with partnerships with Joint Base Elmendorf Library, Boys and Girls Club-Alaska, Mountain View Elementary School and the Alaska Literacy Program. The partnerships are designed to develop a "Learning Neighborhood" that fosters a community-wide culture of learning at home, in the neighborhood, and within local systems and spaces. The work with these partners will extend the reach and impact of our Education Engagement efforts, and for the first time reach small rural Alaska communities, military families and children, and expand its reach to immigrant families by bringing programs to families at the school in their community.

"Working with diverse partners provides the station an opportunity to enrich communities and provide hands-on learning opportunities anywhere, anytime," said Stephanie McFadden, Director of Education and Engagement at AKPM. "As a retired Navy Chief Petty Officer, I especially appreciate being able to provide educational resources to military families."

"The JBER Library is thrilled to partner with AKPM to bring an exciting new level of education and entertainment to our programs," said Joseph O'Neil, Chief, Force Development, JBER. "The resources and innovation AKPM brings to our efforts will significantly enhance learning outcomes, increase parents' awareness of critical support programs outside our gates, and infuse a ton of fun into each child's education experience. We thank AKPM for their sponsorship and support to the JBER Library."*

"Boys and Girls Clubs-Alaska is excited to continue the partnership with AKPM to address academic inequity through expanded STEM programming," said Jen Patronas, CEO, Boys and Girls Club-Alaska. "These fun, hands-on activities, designed to ignite a passion for learning help bridge the academic and digital divide. AKPM has a niche in finding innovative ways to help Alaska's young people reach their full potential!"

"Mountain View Elementary is proud of this partnership that puts parents as a priority in their children's education," said Dr. Clare Hill, Mt. View Elementary School Principal. "We're one of the most diverse schools in the nation. Strengthening and empowering our families is only going to help their scholars achieve."

"Alaska Literacy Program is grateful for and looking forward to the new partnership with Alaska Public Media and our Family Literacy Program, bringing exceptional early learning media to newly arriving Alaskan families," said Lori Pickette, Executive Director, Alaska Literacy Project. "Through family workshops and professional development for our staff, Peer Leader Navigators and volunteers, we will work together to bring fun and engaging learning to our immigrant families and support Anchorage's rich diversity and our multilingual neighbors."

The programs underway with these partners are made possible in large part by a Ready To Learn Grant from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) and PBS in addition to grants from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and Richard L. and Diane M. Block Foundation.

ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA IS BACK ON THE IDITAROD TRAIL

Here's how to follow our race coverage.

Alaska Public Media's news team is headed back to the Iditarod trail this year to report on the 1,000-mile sled dog race!

The competition kicks off Saturday, March 4, in Anchorage. This year's race features a small but competitive field including returning champions Brent Sass and Pete Kaiser.

We're excited to have a team of veteran Iditarod reporters covering the race this year!

Lex Treinen and Ben Matheson will travel the trail, bringing you the stories of the mushers and sled dogs dashing to Nome. Back in Anchorage, Casey Grove is in the host seat of the Iditapod, our Iditarod podcast that is now in its seventh season. And Tegan Hanlon is writing our daily Iditarod newsletter — your one-stop shop for the latest race coverage.

We hope you'll follow along!

Here's how:

• Bookmark alaskapublic.org/Iditarod to keep tabs on the latest Iditarod coverage, from breaking news to feature stories to photos from the trail.

• Sign up for our Iditarod newsletter at alaskapublic.org/newsletters. The newsletter will include our latest stories, podcast episodes and photos. It'll be delivered straight to your inbox from the start of the Iditarod until there's a 2023 champion.

• Subscribe to the Iditapod on your favorite podcast app, including Apple Podcasts and Spotify. The podcast takes you out on the trail — into checkpoints, down along the sea ice, and across the finish line in Nome. Hear interviews with mushers, behind-the-scenes news and in-depth race analysis you won't find anywhere else.

• Tune into KSKA 91.1 FM during the Alaska Morning News and Alaska News Nightly or check your local listings for statewide coverage.

ANTIQUES ROADSHOW IS COMING TO ANCHORAGE!

Antiques Roadshow from PBS is coming to Anchorage on July 11th, 2023 to the Alaska Native Heritage Center.

Part adventure, part history lesson and part treasure hunt, PBS's most-watched ongoing series Antiques Roadshow is heading up to Alaska for the first time in the show's history. At the appraisal event, guests will receive free verbal evaluations of their antiques and collectibles by experts from the country's leading auction houses and independent dealers. Each ticketed guest is invited to bring two items for appraisal.

How to get tickets:
Admission to Antiques Roadshow is free but tickets are required and must be obtained in advance. Fans can enter for a chance to win one pair of free tickets per household. To enter for a free pair of tickets to a 2023 Roadshow event and to see complete entry rules, go to pbs.org/roadshowtickets. Deadline for entries is Monday, March 13, 2023 at 11:59 p.m. PT. *Must enter by March 13, 2023 at 11:59 p.m. PT; must be 18; void where prohibited. See full rules: pbs.org/roadshowtickets.

INTO MYSTERY? TRY FATHER BROWN

BBC's drama about a charming Roman-Catholic priest is another favorite mystery on Alaska Public Media.

Adored by its fans, Father Brown is based on the stories of GK Chesterton, a mystery-solving priest and is set in the comfortable village of Kembleford, in Cotswold. Father Brown, played by Mark Williams, must investigate a myriad of crimes and uncertainties. Currently in Season 9, each episode has a puzzling plot, from unwelcome birthday surprises that turn life threatening, to sacred treasure hunts and holidays filled with bloodshed.

Each episode is a new case, making it easy for new fans to watch. Tune in to Father Brown, Season 9 Episode 4 The Children of Kalon, on Thursday, March 16 at 7 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV.

ESCAPE TO VERSAILLES WITH MARIE ANTOINETTE

Tune in Sundays, March 19 through May 7 at 10 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV.

A captivating new series about one of history's most influential rulers comes to Alaska Public Media this March. The period drama series Marie Antoinette chronicles the infamous historical figure's beginnings from a young dauphine to her position as the last queen of France following her as she learns the rules and secrets of the court and attempts to recreate Versailles in her image: free, independent and feminist. But her successes provokes jealousy and rivalry. The eight-episode series stars Emilia Schüle (Berlin Dance School) as the title character, with Louis Cunningham (Bridgerton) as the last king of France, Louis XVI.

Marie Antoinette is just a teenager when she leaves Austria to marry the dauphin of France. When she arrives at Versailles, she must obey the numerous and complex rules of the French court. Her free spirit is in striking dichotomy to the ridiculous rules of etiquette at Versailles. The princess quickly suffers from not being able to live her life the way she wants, while her mother, the empress of Austria (Marthe Keller*, Marathon Man*), keeps pushing her to produce a Bourbon heir and thus secure the alliance between the two countries.

She's as unprepared for that job as her awkward husband. Faced with Louis' avoidant and solitary character, the mission turns out to be more complicated than she could have ever expected. Louis refuses to share his bed with her, so Marie turns to Madame du Barry for support. But the favorite begins to see the dauphine as a rival for the king's affections. There can't be two queens at Versailles, and du Barry isn't about to disappear.

The rest of the season is laced with threats, flashy balls and defamatory pamphlets. Persistent rumors about her private life undermine Marie Antoinette's status, but she fights back as her opponents within the royal family do everything they can to bring her down.

Marie Antoinette offers a rare glimpse into how the young princess turned into one of history's most iconic leaders, and delivers breathtaking costumes and set design that takes viewers to the Palace of Versailles at the height of the "ancient régime."

Marie Antoinette premieres nationwide Sunday, March 19 and will be available to stream on all digital PBS platforms including PBS.org, the PBS App (available on iOS, Android, Roku streaming devices, Apple TV, Android TV, Amazon Fire TV, Samsung Smart TV, Chromecast and VIZIO). Marie Antoinette will also be available to stream on AK Passport and the PBS MASTERPIECE Prime Video Channel.
