Dear Governor Dunleavy,

Thank you for your letter. Our Vice Chairman, Greg Abel, is the expert on wind, geothermal and other energy matters. I'm forwarding your letter to him for a more intelligent answer than I can provide.

I hope something develops that will allow us to join forces.

Sincerely,

Warren E. Buffett

Dear Governor Dunleavy:

Thank you for your letter to Mr. Buffett. He has suggested that I reply on behalf of Berkshire Hathaway in my role as Vice Chairman, and given my long-time role with our energy holdings company. We appreciate your kind words regarding the renewable generation investments we have made in Iowa and elsewhere, which have been pursued on the basis of providing both environmental and cost benefits to the customers we serve.

Your letter's description of the significant resources and potential in Alaska is undeniably true. Through Berkshire Hathaway Energy, we have both looked at and made investments in the state in the past, and continue to keep an eye out for future projects. I would always welcome and appreciate the opportunity to discuss your vision of adding additional clean energy infrastructure to promote good outcomes for Alaskans.

In advance of an opportunity to connect personally, I would like to put Bill Fehrman, president & CEO of Berkshire Hathaway Energy, in touch with your energy advisor to discuss next steps. He can be reached at 515-281-2326 or wjfehrman@brkenegy.com. Again, thank you for your letter, and for recognizing a strong focus on renewable energy development at Berkshire Hathaway.

Best regards,

Greg Abel
