STORYCORPS' MILITARY VOICES INITIATIVE IS COMING TO ALASKA

The public radio tradition is partnering with Alaska Public Media to tell your stories!

StoryCorps is dedicated to recording, preserving and sharing the stories of people from all backgrounds and beliefs. In partnership with Alaska Public Media and made possible by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, StoryCorps is bringing their Military Voices Initiative to Alaska.

Alaska has a large military community, but many of their stories aren't shared with civilians. Across the nation, the challenges and joys of their experiences are well-known within the military community, but the larger population may not understand the complex realities of our troops' service and sacrifice. The StoryCorps' Military Voices Initiative honors veterans and members of the military community by gathering and preserving their stories by providing a platform for people to share their stories, amplify their experiences and let them know that we - as a nation - are listening.

Be part of the StoryCorps tradition by sharing your own story or participating with a veteran or active military member in your life. All will have the option to have their story saved at the Library of Congress. Select recordings will also air on Alaska Public Media as part of a special series.

To learn about the process, get more information and register, visit alaskapublic.org/events or alaskapublic.org/mvi. Record your guided conversation with StoryCorps virtually May 8-12 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. AKST or in-person in Anchorage July 24-28 from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. AKST. Space is limited and registration is on a first come basis. The Military Voices Initiative is made possible by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

FANNY: THE RIGHT TO ROCK TELLS A STORY THAT WAS ALMOST UNTOLD

Award-winning film reveals the beginning and revival of a band that is already a legend.

Fanny: The Right to Rock chronicles the life and revival of the groundbreaking all-female 1970s rock group.

Sometime in the late 1960s, in sunny Sacramento, two Filipina American sisters got together with other teenage girls to play music. Little did they know their garage band would evolve into the groundbreaking rock group Fanny, the first all-women band to release an LP with a major record label (Warner/Reprise with Grammy winning producer Richard Perry). Yet, despite releasing five critically acclaimed albums over five years, touring with famed bands from Slade to Chicago and amassing a dedicated fan base of music legends including David Bowie, Fanny's impact in music was written out of history...until now.

With incredible archival footage of the band's rocking past, intercut with its revival with a new rock record deal, the film includes interviews with a large cadre of music icons, including Def Leppard's Joe Elliott, Bonnie Raitt, The Go-Go's Kathy Valentine, Todd Rundgren, The Runaways' Cherie Currie, Lovin' Spoonful's John Sebastian, The B-52s' Kate Pierson, Charles Neville and David Bowie guitarist and bassist Earl Slick and Gail Ann Dorsey. Fighting early barriers of race, gender and sexuality in the music industry, and now ageism, the incredible women of Fanny are ready to claim their hallowed place in the halls of rock 'n' roll fame.

Directed by Bobbi Jo Hart, Fanny: the Right to Rock is also the winner of the coveted Hot Docs Audience Choice Award. "I am honored to celebrate the untold story of Fanny's vital - yet buried - contributions to Rock & Roll with the public," says Hart. "Just like Sister Rosetta Tharpe inspired Elvis, Fanny shattered the glass ceiling of the genre to lay crucial groundwork for future bands of women to succeed, from The Runaways to The Go Go's, and continue to do so today. Fanny deserves nothing less than to be inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2024."

In the December 1999 Millennial issue of Rolling Stone Magazine, David Bowie hailed Fanny: "One of the most important female bands in American rock has been buried without trace: Fanny. They were one of the finest rock bands of their time... They're as important as anybody else who's ever been, ever.... Revivify Fanny. And I will feel that my work is done."

Watch Fanny: The Right to Rock Monday, May 22 at 9 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV, or streaming on PBS.org or the PBS App.

INDEPENDENT LENS: SAM NOW

Filmed over 25 years, this intimate coming-of-age documentary is ready to be shared.

From filmmaker Reed Harkness, comes the new documentary Sam Now, a deeply personal story about two film-obsessed brothers and their quest to find their missing mom. In the film, Harkness captures his half brother Sam Harkness from age 11 through 36 as their once-average, middle-class Seattle family find themselves heartbroken and unsure of what to do when his mother suddenly leaves them. The result is a mosaic of love, longing, and loss, as well as an attempt to overcome generational trauma.

The documentary uses a hybrid narrative approach, drawing from Harkness' vast archive of fictional films starring Sam, home videos, intimate family interviews and vérité scenes from over the span of 25 years. Reed blends sobering revelations with playful home movies, resulting in vibrant experimental filmmaking all while the brothers search for answers.

Tune in Monday, May 8 at 9 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV.

GREAT PERFORMANCES CELEBRATES 50 YEARS WITH SPECIAL LINE UP

The “Broadway’s Best” lineup comes to Alaska Public Media this May!

To celebrate Great Performances’ 50th anniversary season, the series raises the curtain on a starry “Broadway’s Best” schedule of programs featuring dazzling musical numbers and high drama for three Fridays in May.

The lineup kicks off on May 12 with Great Performances: Celebrating 50 Years of Broadway’s Best, a star-studded revue of milestone Broadway shows from 1973 to 2023. Showcasing songs from Stephen Schwartz to Andrew Lloyd Webber, the concert is hosted by two-time Tony Award winner Sutton Foster and features performances by three-time Tony Award winner Chita Rivera singing “All That Jazz,” two-time Tony Award nominee Sara Bareilles singing from her award-winning musical “Waitress,” Tony Award nominee Vanessa Williams performing from “Kiss of the Spider Woman,” and many more.

On May 19, the revue continues with Great Performances: Richard III with Danai Gurira (Black Panther, The Walking Dead) in the title role of the Public Theater’s Free Shakespeare in the Park production. The cast includes Tony Award winner Ali Stroker (Oklahoma!) as Lady Anne. Tony Award nominee Robert O’Hara (Broadway’s Slave Play) directs this Shakespearean tragedy spotlighting one of The Bard’s most indelible villains. Portraying the title character’s lust for power and the throne, Gurira gives a performance The New York Times called “unflaggingly energetic” and “vocally thrilling.” The production also features performers and scenes utilizing American Sign Language.

On May 26, the “Broadway’s Best” revue concludes with Great Performances: Anything Goes, an encore broadcast of London’s West End production. Two-time Tony winner Sutton Foster reprises her award-winning performance as Reno Sweeney in Cole Porter’s golden age musical, also starring three-time Olivier Award and Tony Award winner Robert Lindsay, Felicity Kendal and Gary Wilmot.

Telling the tale of romance on the high seas aboard the SS American, Tony-winning choreographer Kathleen Marshall directs the London revival production featuring Porter’s timeless hits, including “I Get a Kick Out of You,” “You’re the Top” and the title song “Anything Goes.”

Throughout its 50-year history on PBS, Great Performances has provided an unparalleled showcase of the best in all genres of the performing arts, serving as America’s most prestigious and enduring broadcaster of cultural programming. Showcasing a diverse range of artists from around the world, the series has earned 67 Emmy Awards and six Peabody Awards.

Great Performances’ “Broadway’s Best” lineup premieres Fridays, May 12-26 at 8 p.m. on Alaska Public Media TV, and will be available to stream on pbs.org/broadwayonpbs and the PBS app.
