

Where You Are. Where You're Going.

REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY
ON 2023

“

“I’ve listened for 15 years now. It has always been the first thing I turn on in the morning to get the news and find out what’s going on without all the fanfare that happens when you turn on other radio stations. I really appreciate the non-biased reporting on stories that are important to us in our community locally, as well as nationally.”

Jan C.

A Letter from the President

Dear Stakeholder,

Your partnership with Alaska Public Media powered our community services in extraordinary ways this past year. AKPM is honored to deliver Alaskans the news, programs, educational services and in-the-community media experiences on which so many rely. Our commitment extends to providing the broadcast and broadband-based emergency communication technology that can ensure the safety of loved ones when disaster strikes.

Thank you for your support! You make this work possible - as members, corporate sponsors, grantors, promotional partners and our board.

We expanded our already broad news reporting with dedicated health and climate coverage. We deepened our storytelling with longer format Indie Alaska documentaries. We traveled to rural Alaska for listening sessions - to hear firsthand the needs of communities statewide and to share free services in multi-generational learning. We held over 50 free community events including Antiques Roadshow in Alaska and dozens of family and children's camps for co-learning. And we continued to produce local, original news and public affairs programs while providing four 24/7 channels free to our great state.

We share the accomplishments of 2023 with you and hope you take pride as you read through this report to the community.

Sincerely,

Ed Ulman, President & CEO

Connecting Alaskans. Life informed.

THROUGH TV

Alaska Public Media produces original local television programs that air on KAKM in addition to carrying select national programs like MASTERPIECE, PBS NewsHour, and Antiques Roadshow.

ALASKA INSIGHT

Lori Townsend moderates this weekly public affairs television program, and our cameras go into the community to add a visual dimension to the topics. 2023 highlights include:

- » Port of Alaska Modernization
- » The Niġilax Restoration Project
- » The Legacy of Vic Fischer

INDIE ALASKA

This award-winning video series of documentary shorts captures the diverse and colorful lifestyles of everyday Alaskans at work and at play. 2023 highlights include:

- » An Accident Turned This Skier into a Force for Good
- » Crochet's Comeback: A Siberian Yup'ik Artist's Modern Twist
- » Talk to the Tundra: How a Yup'ik Village Heals Together

NATIONAL CARRIAGE

Three locally-produced video segments were picked up nationwide on PBS NewsHour:

- » Why Billions of Snow Crabs Disappeared from the Bering Sea

- » How Studying Arctic Ground Squirrels Can Help Advance Human Brain Health

- » How an Alaska Village's Switch to Renewable Energy Helps Local Native Economies

PBS
NEWS
HOUR SM

Alaska Public Media has three
TV Stations:

and carries:

In 2023, we also broadcast locally produced documentaries including Winning at All Costs
and Safe Enough.

>>>> See what's on over-the-air and on demand at alaskapublic.org/watch.

Connecting Alaskans. Life informed.

THROUGH NEWS

Alaska Public Media is the premiere source for news covering local, state, and national news impacting our state. We collaborate with reporters statewide with carriage of our Alaska Morning News, Alaska Economic Report, and Alaska News Nightly on 27 radio stations. We are the only Alaska news group with a dedicated reporter in Washington, D.C. Of the thousands of news stories in 2023, these are a few highlights:

- » A large gold mine you've probably never heard of is quietly preparing to start production in Interior Alaska, despite critics' objections
- » The race is on: What to know about the 2023 Iditarod
- » Rep. Mary Peltola's husband dies after Alaska plane crash
- » Missing Anchorage woman's husband charged with her murder
- » Four years into the Yukon salmon collapse, an Interior Alaska village wonders if it will ever fish again
- » Baby walrus, rescued from Arctic tundra, receives 24-hour cuddle care at Alaska SeaLife Center
- » 24 photos of Alaska's massive and bright aurora show
- » Alaska Legislature passes budget with $1,300 PFD and boost to school funding
- » Anchorage's 2023 election: Compare the candidates for Assembly and School Board
- » Deadly Wrangell landslide is part of a pattern in vulnerable Alaska mountainous terrain

NATIONAL CARRIAGE

Four locally-produced news stories were carried nationwide on NPR:

» Amid Criticism from Environmentalists, a New Oil Project in Alaska is Set to Get the Green Light

» Mother of ROTC Cadet Demands Accountability After Her Daughter's Death

» NewsHour Interview with Liz Ruskin about the Willow decision*

» Alaska Oil Project Gets the Green Light

* This interview also ran on PBS NewsHour.

Prefer to get your news on demand? Alaska Morning News, Alaska Economic Report, and Alaska News Nightly are all available any time of day on the Alaska Public Media app and wherever you get your podcasts.

>>>> Get the latest news at alaskapublic.org/news.

Connecting Alaskans. Life informed.

THROUGH RADIO

Alaska Public Media produces original local radio programs that air on KSKA in addition to carrying national programs like Morning Edition, All Things Considered, Wait, Wait...Don't Tell Me, and Fresh Air. It is the No. 1 listened-to station in the Anchorage market.

TALK OF ALASKA

Alaska's only statewide call-in forum discussing Alaska issues. Hosted weekly by Lori Townsend and others from the AKPM Newsroom. 2023 highlights include:

- » Preparing for Extreme Weather
- » The Willow Project
- » Holiday Greetings from Across the State

LINE ONE: YOUR HEALTH CONNECTION

Hosts Dr. Justin Clark, Prentiss Pemberton, and Dr. Jillian Woodruff discuss a variety of health-related topics with guests on this weekly statewide show. 2023 highlights include:

- » Resources for Eating Disorders in Alaska
- » Autonomy During End-Of-Life Care
- » Mental Health Services for Transition-Aged Youth

OUTDOOR EXPLORER

This weekly show celebrates Alaska's great outdoors. Hosts Lisa Keller, Martha Rosenstein, Paul Twardock, and Adam Verrier introduce listeners to experts that help us enjoy and explore. 2023 highlights include:

- » The History of Kincaid Park
- » Search and Rescue in Southcentral Alaska
- » Fireweed Bike Race Returns This Weekend

HOMETOWN, ALASKA

Learn about the civic and cultural leaders, educators, and community members in Anchorage making an impact on their city through their conversations with rotating hosts Anne Hillman, O'Hara Shipe, Dave Waldron, and Justin Williams. 2023 highlights include:

- » History and Mystery in Alaska
- » Gardeners and Growers
- » The 3 Barons Renaissance Fair

STATE OF ART

Airing as a segment within Hometown, Alaska and on Fridays, this weekly program covers Anchorage arts and culture with interviews of the makers. 2023 highlights include:

- » Original 'Hamilton' Rap Wins Anchorage Student Tickets to the Hit Musical
- » 'Antiques Roadshow' in Anchorage
- » License plate design winner balances passion for art and science

ADDRESSING ALASKANS

This occasional broadcast features local lectures and forums recorded at live events taking place in Southcentral Alaska.

TRAVELING MUSIC

Longtime host Shonti Elder presents music every week by Alaskan and nationally-known musicians.

KSKA turned 45 in 2023.
Listen to a special episode of Hometown, Alaska with the station's first general manager and longtime program director at alaskapublic.org/hometown.

»»»» Learn more about our local radio programs at alaskapublic.org/radio.

Supporting Learning for Children and Families

THROUGH PROGRAMS AND EXPERIENCES

Alaska Public Media combines the power of PBS research-based and curriculum-relevant programs that boost early literacy skills, improve math and knowledge skills, strengthen parental support, and lead to learning gains comparable to high-quality pre-K.

PBS KIDS

Designed for children ages 2 to 8, PBS KIDS is a block of educational programming airing on KAKM during the day and as a separate 24/7 channel. Both are broadcast over the air, via cable and satellite providers, and on streaming platforms. Some favorite programs include Wild Kratts, Daniel Tiger's Neighborhood, Odd Squad, Donkey Hodie, Alma's Way, and Molly of Denali.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Alaska Public Media supports workforce development in Alaska with a project begun in April 2023 to help grow talent in Alaska's transportation sector. Called Jobs Explained - Transportation, we produce social media content about transportation career opportunities for high school students that do not require 4-year degrees. On average, we post three times a week on TikTok and Instagram - the platforms preferred by the target youth audience. In 2023, we posted 63 unique videos. Topics and content benefit from feedback via special business advisory and youth advisory councils working with Alaska Public Media.

Follow @transportjobs_explained on TikTok and Instagram.

PBS LearningMedia provides timely content to keep kids learning.

Alaska Public Media and PBS have curated FREE, online curriculum-aligned videos, interactives, lesson plans, and more for teachers and parents. Arranged around timely, topical collections focused around learning objectives users can create lessons, customize their own dashboard, save and organize resources, see state standards, manage classes and assignments, and sync with Google Classroom.

>>>> See resources and learn more at pbslearningmedia.org.

EDUCATING KIDS AND FAMILIES THROUGH ENGAGEMENT

Alaska Public Media continued its community-based, hands-on experiences to equip young learners with key skills for success and support for the adults in their lives. Here are headlines for the programs conducted in 2023:

Through a collaborative effort between Alaska Public Media and United Way of Anchorage, we created Parent and Community Engagement (PACE) to provide learning supports and services outside of school using two generation strategies. We supported 29 parents and 65 kids meeting once a month for nine months. 85% of the participants are refugees and 65% are English Language Learners. PACE built parental resilience by providing concrete tools and information about community, school, and employment resources.

In partnership with Mountain View School, we hosted two family events and one Kids Career Day with 15 vendors that was inspiring and tailored to a low-income community with multi-generational households. Combining partner resources impacted more than 300 families. We brought innovative and culturally responsive educational activities that support high-attendance outcomes and overall positive experiences.

>>>> See videos and education links at alaskapublic.org/education.

Alaska Public Media partnered with Anchorage School District's 21st Century program for a seven-week summer program. We facilitated 65 PBS STEM sessions engaging more than 170 students grades 1-6 at Lake Otis Elementary School. Among participants, some were English Language Learners, homeless, or low-performing academically. The kids engaged in science, literacy, and math enrichment learning activities that provided positive, enrichment experiences for educational play. The camp supported high-quality summer programming, which enhanced safety, academic performance and life skills.

Alaska Public Media partnered with four Boys and Girls Clubs in Mountain View, Eagle River, Sand Point and Kake, and with the Hoonah Heritage Center in Hoonah, Youth 360 in Seward, and Joint Base Elmendorf Richardson Library over a nine-month period to facilitate 2 and 3-day PBS STEM camps reaching 147 kids grades 1-6. The kids engaged in science, literacy, and math enrichment learning activities using PBS Ready to Learn resources.

Additionally, Alaska Public Media partnered with Arizona PBS to host three 2-day Learn & Grow (Social Emotional Learning) workshops for 36 families in rural Alaska.

Bringing Media into the Community

THROUGH IN-PERSON AND VIRTUAL EVENTS

Alaska Public Media localizes the media experience with events in the community, from Antiques Roadshow in Alaska and in-person and virtual recordings for StoryCorps Military Voices Initiative, to free screenings, panel discussions, and in-person Molly of Denali appearances. 2023 highlights include:

ANTIQUES ROADSHOW IN ALASKA

After more than 10 years of planning, the award-winning Antiques Roadshow from PBS came to Alaska for the first time in the show's history in July. Working with Alaska Public Media, approximately 3,000 people participated in the day-long event at the Alaska Native Heritage Center. Part adventure, part history lesson, this is PBS's most-watched ongoing series. At the July appraisal event, guests received verbal evaluations of their antiques and collectibles by experts from the country's leading auction houses and independent dealers. This ticketed event was free and managed generally by lottery with hundreds of tickets dispersed to area non-profits. The Alaska episodes will air starting January 2024.

MENTAL HEALTH RESOURCE FAIR

Alaska Public Media hosted its second annual, free Mental Health Resource Fair at the Fairview Recreation Center in October. Roughly 400 attendees came to this family-friendly event with more than 35 service providers offering information and opportunities to:

- » Talk to local behavioral health and substance use treatment providers
- » Apply for programs, like SNAP, WIC, and health insurance
- » Learn about mental well-being

Grants from the Alaska Mental Health Trust and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation helped make this event possible.

STORYCORPS MILITARY VOICES INITIATIVE

The award-winning radio series, StoryCorps, brought their Military Voices Initiative to Alaska with in-person and virtual recording sessions from May to September. Alaska Public Media facilitated finding veterans, service members, and military families to share their stories on this unique platform. More than 50 participants had their recordings stored at the Library of Congress. Select conversations will air on Alaska Public Media in 2024.

MILITARY VOICES
Story Corps

NOVA SCREENING AND TALK: WEATHERING THE FUTURE

Alaska Public Media partnered with The Nature Conservancy for a free screening at the Bear Tooth Theatrepub to present this documentary examining the dramatic ways that our weather is changing. From hotter heat waves to more intense rainstorms to megafires and multi-year droughts, the U.S. is experiencing the full range of impacts from a changing global climate. At the same time, many on the front lines are fighting back—innovating solutions, marshaling ancient wisdom, and developing visionary ideas. Accompanying the film were two video shorts by Alaska Public Media highlighting situations unique to our state.

>>>> See what's coming up at alaskapublic.org/events.

HEALING TOGETHER: FILM SCREENING AND CONVERSATION ABOUT SUICIDE

Suicide is preventable, but it takes a community-wide effort. The students of Nelson Island School in Toksook Bay are using a model working with the Alaska Chapter of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. Their efforts are part of a 20-minute Indie Alaska episode by Alaska Public Media that premiered in a free November event at Mountain View Public Library. Afterward, 70 attendees engaged in a powerful, facilitated community conversation about suicide, prevention, and grief-processing. Partners in the Toksook Week of Healing were on hand to talk about the program.

THE FUTURE OF ALASKA'S CARIBOU: A COMMUNITY CONVERSATION

This free community discussion focused on the health and future of Alaska's caribou herds – a vital source of food and an important cultural icon for many Alaska communities. But the future for some of the herds is in question as populations dwindle. The discussion was facilitated with an in-person audience and a subject matter expert panel talking about the status of herds, threats, and what can be done to reverse them.

Here's a sampling of 2023 events:

- » KSKA 45th Anniversary
- » NPR's Ayesha Roscoe donor event
- » Betrayed: Surviving an American Concentration Camp screening at Loussac Public Library
- » Frontline 40th Anniversary conversation with Editor-in-Chief and Executive Producer Raney Aronson-Rath - virtual
- » POV: Wisdom Gone Wild screening at Bear Tooth
- » Donkey Hodie at Alaska State Fair, school, and community center visits
- » Molly of Denali appearances: World of Work at Mountain View Elementary, Enlaces Children's Day in Government Hill, Reading Rendezvous Anchorage Public Library, APU Indigenous Peoples Day, Mental Health Resource Fair, and multiple library story times and school visits
- » Community Advisory Board meetings open to the public
- » AKPM's News Team hosted listening sessions in three rural Alaska communities to learn more about the challenges they face and the news content they want to see reported on
- » Estate Planning: Protecting Your Legacy seminars

52 EVENTS

8.6k ATTENDEES

Connecting Alaskans. Life informed.

THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

It takes technology to produce and to distribute news, radio, and television that you rely on. We are also an integral part of the broadcast community in delivering emergency alerts to the public. Our Technology and Engineering team continually works to improve that support. 2023 highlights include:

THE STATE OF ALASKA EMERGENCY COMMUNICATIONS COMMITTEE officially assigns KSKA as the Anchorage Local Primary 2 monitoring broadcast station which carries Emergency Alert delivery to the public. This assignment provides a backup path to emergency alert messaging to other broadcast stations.

PBS SATELLITE TV PROGRAMMING SERVICES MIGRATED to a new satellite service provider with a seamless transition using new satellite downlink location and linking services back to AKPM facilities. The old satellite signal delivery went dark on May 31, 2023.

SHARED SERVICES SITE SUPPORT VISITS AND REMOTE ASSISTANCE to KTOO (Juneau) for a new transmitter installation for the Auke Mountain site, KTOO EAS maintenance and upgrade path investigation, transmitter remote control upgrades, and KYUK (Bethel) TV transmitter troubleshooting and repair. Additionally, we supported KNBA's new studio and equipment installation, and provided electrical repairs work and support to their building, computer automation systems maintenance and repairs, and ABTC system microwave system maintenance and repairs. We also replaced and retuned the KYUK (Bethel) AM Tower and restored the broadcast to full time operation and full power status with improved audio quality and multiple surrounding community coverage.

ASSIST LOCAL COMMUNITIES WITH TROUBLESHOOTING AND REPAIR of existing systems including finding a new tower and transmitting antenna for Nome after they were destroyed by a windstorm.

AKPM AWARDED CONTINUATION OF STATE OF ALASKA CONTRACT TO MANAGE ARCS TV SYSTEM. ARCS (Alaska Rural Communications System) FCC License renewals for all the operating locations in the state have been issued. They became effective on February 1 and are good for the next eight years. ARCS Master Control Operation moved from Fairbanks to Anchorage. The move of this operation included modernizing the system equipment and operations. Benefits of this effort include improvement of stability and reliability of the TV program delivery and improvement of the program quality to the more than 100 rural Alaska communities providing community program delivery with no fees to household users.

INSTALLATION AND REPLACEMENT OF OUTDATED AND END-OF-LIFE PROGRAM MEDIA ENCODER SYSTEMS for both KAKM TV and KSKA FM. These systems capture and process all of our over-the-air (OTA) broadcast programming and use modern technology to better process the video and audio programming and improve reliability and quality.

UPGRADED THE PROGRAMMING DELIVERY LINK TO IMPROVE RELIABILITY AND QUALITY OF SERVICE of the Sitka TV Translator. This collaboration with local radio station KCAW also provided an improved studio-to-transmitter programming link to the transmitter site.

AKPM CONTINUES TO SUPPORT MULTIPLE TV TRANSLATOR TRANSMITTER SITES from Girdwood to the Kenai Peninsula including Homer and Seldovia to extend our TV programming to communities that cannot receive our primary signal covering Anchorage and the Mat-Su Valley. This string of transmitter sites has an aging infrastructure and is in need of near future upgrades to continue reliable and quality programming delivery.

Be part of the community conversation about programming and services at Alaska Public Media to address the diverse needs and interests of the communities we serve.

Our Community Advisory Board meetings are open to the public. Drop-in for one of our virtual meetings held four times a year Fall-Spring from 6-7 p.m.

>>>> Learn about upcoming meeting dates and topics at alaskapublic.org/publicmeetings.

Excellence and Leadership

SHARED SUCCESS

Excellence is achieved through our team's committed work and our community's support. We share the success acknowledged through this year's awards with our generous members and sponsors.

EMMY NORTHWEST REGIONAL AWARD

- » Community Service: Mental Health Deep Dive

PUBLIC MEDIA AWARD:

- » Digital Media: Indie Alaska series
- » Community Engagement: Building a Strong Community at a Steady PACE

PUBLIC MEDIA JOURNALISTS ASSOCIATION

- » 1st Place - Nationally Edited News Coverage: Mary Peltola, the first Alaska Native heading to Congress, journeys home to the river
- » 1st Place - Audience Engagement Program: Talk of Alaska: Decolonizing Native Education
- » 1st Place - Investigative Reporting: Anchorage Health Department director resigns amid investigation into fabricated resume

GOLDIE AWARDS

- » TV Public Affairs/Specialty Program: Supporting Alaska's Veterans | Alaska Insight
- » TV News Feature: Younger Generations Push to Preserve a Disappearing Indigenous Language in Rural Alaska | Alaska Insight
- » Radio Entertainment Program: The 3 Barons Renaissance Fair is a Potent Elixir of History, Fantasy, and Fun | Hometown, Alaska

ALASKA PRESS CLUB (highlighting first place awards only)

- » Public Service Award: Lex Treinen for his exhaustive reporting last year that uncovered then-Anchorage Health Director Joe Gerace had fabricated his resume
- » Best Investigative Reporting: Anchorage Health Department director resigns amid investigation into fabricated resume
- » Best Natural Sound Video Journalism: Arctic ultramarathons helped this suicide survivor find hope | Indie Alaska
- » Best Multimedia Presentation: The largest homeless shelter in Alaska will close this month. Many staying there aren't sure where they'll live next.
- » Best Breaking News Story: Historically powerful storm slams Western Alaska. Here's what people experienced across hundreds of miles of coastline.
- » Best Solo Journalism: Peltola goes home to the Kuskokwim, still waiting to hear if she's the first Alaska Native elected to Congress
- » Best Culture Reporting: 'They're reaching for this': Students compete in Yup'ik and Iñupiaq spelling bees
- » Best Video Journalism: Bucket List Bungee Jumping in Rural Alaska | Indie Alaska
- » Best Reporting Government/Politics: The COVID-19 pandemic is leaving more children in Alaska's foster care system without a stable home
- » Best Same-Day Feature: Emotions high as Anchorage's largest homeless shelter shuts down after 2 years

Alaska Public Media supports the next generation of media makers through its continued TV Production Internship program with King Tech High School and with UAA's Journalism program.

Alaska Public Media participates in national organizations to continually improve our skills and industry best practices. National board membership is held by folks on our executive team for PBS Board of Directors and local boards for United Way Anchorage, Alaska Press Club, and Women's Power League of Alaska. Some are chairs for PBS Program Advisory Council, America's Public Television Stations, Alaska Broadcasters Association, Alaska Center for Excellence in Journalism Advisory Board, and Executive Content Managers for Public Media. In addition to the many panels our team has participated in over the year for PBS and NETA, several sit on committees for Northwest Regional EMMY, PBS, U.S. INPUT, ITVS, and POV, Public Radio Program Directors Strategic Planning Committee, NETA, and PBS Traffic Advisory Committee. In 2023, senior staff worked with the Poynter Institute as part of a Digital Transformation Project to serve our community on these growing platforms.

Connecting Alaskans. Life informed.

AUDIENCE SNAPSHOT

Alaska Public Media is a community-focused, community-supported effort with more than 80% of the funds needed annually coming locally through donations by individual members, corporate sponsors, and granting foundations.

52.3k

KSKA*
WEEKLY
LISTENERS

190.4k

KAKM
WEEKLY
VIEWERS

14k

CREATE TV
WEEKLY
VIEWERS

45k

PBS KIDS 24/7
WEEKLY
VIEWERS

5.6m

WEB
VISITORS

41.4k

FACEBOOK
FOLLOWERS

28.5k

YOUTUBE
SUBSCRIBERS*

12.1k

INSTAGRAM
FOLLOWERS

32k

TWITTER
FOLLOWERS
@AKPUBLICNEWS

12.4k

TWITTER
FOLLOWERS
@ALASKAPUBLIC

* NielsenAudio, Spring 2023 P2+, Anchorage Market

 NSI Data, Jan - Oct 2023 P2+, Anchorage Market

11.1k

TOTAL
MEMBERS

48%

GIVE MONTHLY
AS SUSTAINERS

230

SPONSORS

15

GRANTS

1,364

PICK. CLICK. GIVE.
DONATIONS

1

BEQUEST
RECEIVED

79

VEHICLES
DONATED

In 2023, Alaska Public Media launched a partnership with a local company, Alaska Premier Auctions & Appraisals, to provide a better car donation experience. A full-service company serving all of Alaska, their helpful team of 40+ full-time employees have created a friendly experience, with the goal of getting the maximum return on your generous donation. Should you choose to donate your vehicle, the towing is free, you may receive a tax deduction, and the process is easy.

>>>> Learn more at alaskapublic.org/vehicles.

Connecting Alaskans. Life informed.

THROUGH E-NEWSLETTERS

Alaska Public Media creates unique content and specially-curated news and information through our popular e-newsletters. With releases daily, weekly, bi-weekly, and for special events, we serve our community through e-newsletters that fit your interests.

THIS WEEK ON ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA

Stay connected with This Week On Alaska Public Media, the weekly newsletter that brings you the best news, events, and program highlights from Alaska Public Media.

38.8k SUBSCRIBERS

ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA

Daily Digest

Top stories and statewide news

Catch up on the latest headlines and statewide stories with Alaska Public Media's Daily Digest, curated from newsrooms around the state and delivered directly to your inbox every weekday.

17k SUBSCRIBERS

ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA

Alaska At-Large

Your news window on Washington, D.C.

Politics news and analysis from our Washington, D.C. correspondent, Liz Ruskin. Liz's newsletter is delivered straight to your inbox every other Thursday.

15.8k SUBSCRIBERS

ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA

IDITAROD DAILY

The latest news from the trail

During the lead-up to and during the Iditarod, AKPM covered all the race news. We also produced the Iditapod podcast and sent this daily newsletter.

6.1k SUBSCRIBERS

>>>> Sign up at alaskapublic.org/newsletters.

Ways to Watch & Listen

OVER THE AIR OR BY DIGITAL STREAM

Use the table below to see where to find us on your platform of choice.

PLATFORM	KAKM	PBS KIDS 24/7	KTOO 360TV	CREATE TV	KSKA
Over the Air	7.1	7.4	7.3	7.2	91.1
GCI/ Yukon TV	7 and 657	97	15	94	—
Dish	6 and 7	10	9	8	—
DIRECTV	7	288	—	—	—
YouTube TV	Search "Alaska Public"	Search "PBS KIDS"	—	—	—
Hulu +Live TV	Search "PBS"	Search "PBS KIDS"	—	—	—
Local Now app	Roku FireTV iOS devices TVOS Android mobile/ tablet/TV	—	—	—	—
On the Web	alaskapublic.org pbs.org	alaskapublic.org pbskids.org	alaskapublic.org KTOO.org	—	alaskapublic.org NPR.org
Stream/ On Demand	PBS app on: Roku FireTV iOS/Apple de- vices Android devices	PBS KIDS Video app on: Roku FireTV iOS/Apple devices Android devices	KTOO Video app on: Roku Apple TV	—	Apple Podcasts Google Play Spotify Amazon Music AKPM app NPR app

“I’ve lived in the state of Alaska for 25 years. I’m an airline pilot, and I’ve come to learn how valuable Alaska Public Media is statewide. I listen daily when I go to and from the airport. It’s a media space that I feel comfortable that my kids can listen to as well. And that unfortunately is becoming harder as we go forward with polarized media.”

Mark S.

“We value Alaska Public Media’s service now and its potential for the next generation. That’s why we’ve included a planned gift to AKPM in our will.”

Beth Rose and John Levy

>>>> Scan the QR code to see our annual video or visit
akpub.io/2023video

3877 University Drive • Anchorage, AK 99508-4676

@alaskapublic

alaskapublic.org

907-550-8400