ALASKA INSIGHT: NEW SEASON, NEW TIME

Season 8 starts September 13 at 7 p.m.

Alaska Insight, Alaska Public Media's statewide public affairs television program is returning for its eighth season, ready to tell Alaska's stories and keep Alaskans informed about issues that matter. A team of reporters and videographers from Alaska Public Media and across the collaborative statewide news network have been working hard to analyze the issues affecting Alaska and the communities within it.

Lori and her guests go beyond the headlines to provide a deeper perspective on the issues that have Alaskans talking. More than just studio discussions, Alaska Insight's cameras and reporters take you into the community, to meet the Alaskans these issues affect the most.

Alaska Insight also works to keep you informed about the latest developments in stories across the state. Each week, Lori brings the top stories from the statewide news network, to ensure viewers are up-to-date about the issues we cover.

Season eight starts with coverage of the important issues Alaskans will decide at the ballot box in November. We'll look at what voters are saying about what matters to them, discuss the future of ranked choice voting, and examine the arguments of the candidates for Alaska's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Beyond elections, we'll look at efforts to increase transparency and accountability in Alaska's law enforcement agencies, examine services aimed at helping people experiencing homelessness to build life skills, and discuss the history of an often-forgotten WWII battle that took place on Alaskan soil.

This season will also look at important technologies and sciences at the forefront of Alaskan issues. We'll speak with groups working to understand landslides and build warning systems, or others trying to revolutionize Alaska's home-building industry.

We'll also hold discussions about the future of important parts of Alaska's state services, like the Permanent Fund Dividend and the Marine Highway System. These are issues that affect people in communities across the state.

In addition, and maybe the biggest news of the season, is that Alaska Insight is moving to a new time! Alaska Insight will now air Fridays at 7pm. between the PBS NewsHour and Washington Week. Don't miss the season 8 premiere of Alaska Insight on Alaska Public Media TV, Friday, September 13 at 7 p.m.

PREPARE FOR THE TWIST: MOONFLOWER MURDERS PREMIERES ON SEPTEMBER 15

The sequel to Magpie Murders brings more intrigue and suspense that will leave you guessing till the end.

Get ready to immerse yourself in a gripping new drama as Moonflower Murders makes its debut on Alaska Public Media TV. Based on the best-selling novel by acclaimed author Anthony Horowitz, CBE, this six-part series promises to deliver a perfect blend of mystery, suspense, and stellar performances.

Moonflower Murders is the much-anticipated sequel to the highly acclaimed Magpie Murders, which has captivated audiences on MASTERPIECE since 2022. Written by Horowitz himself, who also received an Edgar Award for Magpie Murders, this new series is set to take viewers on another thrilling journey. Directed by Rebecca Gatward (Bad Sisters) and produced by Suzanne McAuley (Magpie Murders), the show is backed by a stellar production team, with Jill Green of Eleventh Hour Films serving as executive producer.

The story picks up with Susan, who has left the world of publishing behind to live in Crete with her long-time boyfriend, Andreas. However, her peaceful life is shattered when she becomes embroiled in the mystery of a murder that took place at a British country hotel eight years ago. When Cecily Treherne, who helps run the hotel, goes missing after reading a novel by the late Alan Conway, Susan is drawn into a dangerous quest to uncover the truth.

Fans of Magpie Murders will be delighted to see the return of Academy Award®-nominee Lesley Manville (The Crown, Phantom Thread, Mum) in the role of Susan Ryeland, the sharp-witted book editor turned amateur sleuth. Timothy McMullan (Patrick Melrose, The Crown) also reprises his role as the iconic literary detective Atticus Pünd. The chemistry between Manville and McMullan, coupled with Horowitz's masterful storytelling, makes Moonflower Murders a must-watch.

In addition to the returning cast members, including Alexandros Logothetis as Andreas, Daniel Mays as Locke/Chubb, and Claire Rushbrook as Kate, the series introduces new faces such as Mark Gatiss (Sherlock, Nolly) as Parris/Berlin and Rosalie Craig (Anatomy of A Scandal, The Queen's Gambit) as Lisa/Melissa. This ensemble of talent is sure to bring depth and intrigue to the unfolding mystery.

Tune in for the premiere of Moonflower Murders on Alaska Public Media TV on Sunday, September 15 at 8 p.m. Or, binge all six episodes of the series with AK Passport starting on the night of its broadcast premiere. DARK SECRETS AND HIGH STAKES: VAN DER VALK RETURNS

As new threats emerge, Detective Van der Valk must balance solving murders with confronting his past.

Get ready for an electrifying return to the dark streets of Amsterdam as Van der Valk launches its highly anticipated fourth season on PBS's Masterpiece, bringing with it a fresh wave of suspense, intrigue, and personal turmoil for the city's most relentless detective.

Set against the backdrop of Amsterdam's stunning cityscape, the new season promises to deliver more suspenseful cases that test both Van der Valk and his dedicated team in unforeseen ways.

Known for its high-octane storytelling, Van der Valk has become a must-watch for crime drama enthusiasts. The show follows Piet Van der Valk, a hard-nosed detective navigating the culturally diverse yet criminally fraught streets of Amsterdam. As he takes on a new series of complex cases, the contrasts of this vibrant city—where picturesque canals and historical buildings coexist with darker undercurrents of crime—come to life.

Season 4 opens with the two-part premiere, Safe in Amsterdam, and kicks off with the murder of a whistleblower who was under police protection. As Van der Valk dives into the case, complications arise when he discovers that the protection officer involved is a former romantic flame. This conflict of interest introduces new tensions, raising questions about how personal ties might impact Van der Valk's commitment to the case.

The stakes escalate over the season as Van der Valk faces not only external threats but also internal struggles within his team. In the midst of investigating high-profile crimes, he must help a team member confront their own mortality, all while grappling with the resurgence of his past love life. These personal challenges bring a deeper, more introspective angle to the character, enriching the already compelling narrative.

Van der Valk has always stood out for its ability to explore the human elements of crime while maintaining a fast-paced and suspenseful tone. This season looks to deepen those themes, weaving in threads of loss, regret, and the complexity of human relationships amid its trademark crime-solving intensity. Whether you're in it for the nail-biting mysteries or the drama of Van der Valk's personal life, this season promises to be one of the most thrilling yet.

Binge all of the new season with AK Passport or tune-in for the season premiere Sunday, September 15 at 10 p.m on Alaska Public Media TV.
